

KC

DON'T MISS
THE CITY'S NEWEST PLACES »» TO SEE AND BE SEEN

The

KC
magazine

1000

also...
CHIC
SPRING STYLE

and...
GOING GREEN
+ much more

OUR ANNUAL LIST OF THE PEOPLE MAKING KANSAS CITY A FANTASTIC PLACE TO CALL HOME

Jewelry designer and KC native Brady Legler

Spring Bling

Whether you're a serious art collector or just like to browse the Crossroads galleries on First Fridays, you're probably already familiar with Kansas City native Brady Legler's paintings. Legler is represented locally at Weinberger Fine Art and his vibrant abstract paintings are also sold through a number of high-end home boutiques nationally. At just 24 years old, the senior at New York's renowned Parsons the New School of Design has just launched his first fine jewelry collection. The line's clean, modern style, which Legler says was inspired by his very stylish grandmother—a fashion model in the '40s-'60s—has already received high praise from within the jewelry industry and has been pulled for fashion and cover shoots for some major national style titles. Here are a few of our favorite pieces from the collection, which is carried in Kansas City exclusively by Tivol starting this month.

Rectangle diamond drop 18K yellow gold earrings, $4,200.

Double-row
18K yellow gold
and diamond cuff
bracelet, $9,400.

Diamond and 18K yellow gold
guitar pick ring, $3,310.